GATES POLICE COURT CASE.

STEEL AND WIRE MEN COMING BACK TO ANSWER CRIMINAL CHARGE.

Washington Seligman's Complaint Withdrawn -Magistrate Zeller Knows of No Other, but Lawyer Lamb Says There Is One and That the Summonses Will He Served. Chairman John W. Gates and President John Lambert of the American Steel and Wire Company, against whom summonses have been issued here on the charge of making false statements about the company's condition, do not, it was announced by Max Pam, counsel of the company, yesterday, propose to allow any impression to prevail that they left this city for Chicago on Wednesday of last week in order to escape the service of the papers. Mr. Pam was in consultation with Messrs. Gates and Lambert by wire yesterday morning and later made the following formal statement: The publication this morning of the institution of criminal proceedings against Mr. Gates and Mr. Lambert cannot remain unnoticed There is absolutely no foundation for any such proceeding, and in my judgment an ulterior motive prompts what has been caused to be published. Mr. Gates and Mr. Lambert have been advised of this matter, and will leave Chicago so as to be here Monday morning ready to submit to service of any process whatsoever, enabling any person making any complaint to have an immediate trial. Counsel have been employed who will not only look after their defence, but will look to the vigorous prosecution of the parties undertaking this proceeding." The proposed proceedings against Mr. Gates were first instituted by Washington Seligman of the New York Stock Exchange firm of Seligman & Van Antwerp and a relative of the Seligmans in the firm of J. & W. Seligman & Co. Lamb & Voss were his lawyers, and Mr. Seligman said yesterday that he was introduced to George Alfred Lamb of the law firm by Camille Weidenfeld of the Stock Exchange firm of Lawson, Weidemfeld & Co. He denied, however, a son, Weidenfield & Co. He denied, however, a report that it was Mr. Weidenfield who had instigated the action he took.

"I secured a summons for President Gauss of the American Steel and Wire Company," said Mr. Seigman, "from Magistrate Zeiler, but Mr. Gates couldn't be found, and on request of my relatives in J. & W. Seigman & Co., who assured me that he would get out as chairman of the wire company at the directors' meeting on May 7, I retured from the matter. I have heard that other people, among whom is a member of the New York Stock Exchange, are urging further action. Associated with Lamb & Voss in the matter is former Justice Joseph F. Dalv. It is the beginning of a crusade against Gatesism and Lambertism. The investing public are heartily disguisted with their methods. Why, I was showered with congratulations when I went on the Stock Exchange to-day. I don't think the investing public would go into mourning if action is taken against Gates and Lambert."

Mr. Lamb admitted that he secured sum-bert."

Mr. Lamb admitted that he secured summonses for both Mr. Gates and Mr. Lambert, another client having appeared in the case since Mr. Seligman retired. He declined to discuss the matter, stating that he regretted its premature publication. He expressed pleasure when told of the appearement by Mr. Pare when told of the appearement by Mr. Pare when told of the announcement by Mr. Pam that Mr. Gates and Mr. Lambert will be in this city to-morrow, and when asked if it was his intention to serve papers upon them he replied:

He also denied that Camille Weidenfeld was behind his action, stating that Mr. Weidenfeld had absolutely no connection with it, except in having introduced Mr. Seligman to him. A story that Mr. Weidenfeld had instigated the story that Mr. Weidenfeld had instigated the proceedings to gate ven because of stock mar-ket losses made when Steel and Wire stock slumped after Mr. Gates ordered the closing of twelve of the company's mills he said was "a pretty little romance, but the sheerest non-

Mr. Lamb declined to give the name of his present client. The summonses were issued under section til, of the Fenal Code touching "misconduct of officers and employees of corporations." The section says:

"A director, officer, agent or employee of any corporation or joint-stock association who corporation or joint-stock association who knowingly concurs in making or publishing any written report, exhibit or statement of its affairs, or pecuniary condition, containing any material statement which is talse is guilty of a middenage. The offence named in the section is a misdemeanor punishable by a term of not more than one year in State's prison or a fine of not ex-ceeding $500 or both.

one year in State's prison or a fine of not exceeding $500 or both.

Magistrate Zeller said yesterday that the only complainant of whom he had any knowledge was Mr. Seligman, who, he understood, had withdrawn his complaint. But Mr. Lamb states positively that summonses are still out. It is alleged that both Washington Seligman and the present client of Lamb & Yoss bought Steel and Wire stock some time ago because of an official statement that the directors of the company, in view of the prosperous condition of the corporation's affairs, intended soon to retire at par $5,00,000 of the $40,000,000 of the company broke badly in price when on Monday, April 16, Chairman Gates shut down twelve of the company's mills and was quoted as saying that the steel and iron business was in bad shape and that the demand for the company's products was hardly 30 percent, of what it should be. The stocks of the company have not recovered in price since. Mr. Claratic alloyed to have been quoted on the same company have not recovered in price since. Mr. Gates is alleged to have been quoted on the same day as prophesying that the price of steel rails would fall to about $22 a ton in a week, which it did not do.

did not do.

Washington Seligman's complaint was made to Magistrate Zeller on Tuesday last. The process server who got the summons against fur. Gates obtained by Mr. Seligman is said to have endeavored vainly to serve Mr Gates, who left this city for Chicago on Wednesday who left this city for Chicago on Wednesday afternoon.

The firm of Seligman & Van Antwerp, it was learned yesterday, will be dissolved on May I, the junior member, William Clarkson Van Antwerp, forming a new partnership with Henry Wilmerding Payne.

The stocks of the iron and steel companies suffered decided declines yesterday, being affected by reports that the Carnegie company was to enter into active competition with the American Steel and Wire Company. The common stock of the latter company sold as low as 38, closing at 38%, or at a net loss of 3 points for the day. Federal Steel common sold down to 414, closing at 41, or 112 points down for the day.

FOR A RURAL FREE DELIVERY. Country Postmasters Opposing an Experiment

GREENWICE, Conn., April 28. The scheme to do away with five rural Post Offices in the town of Greenwich and substitute the free delivery system in their stead, has brought out a vigorous protest from the Postmasters. The offices that will be abolished, if the petition that has been sent to Washington is approved, are those in Stanwich, Taconic, Round Hill, Bankswhose in Stanwich, Taconic, Round Hill, Bankswille and possibly Glenville. A short time ago the rural delivery was put in operation from Port Chester through Ring street, part of Glenville, Riverville and North Greenwich

MRS. CHADWICK HONORED.

Made a Life Member and Honorary President of the Froebel Society.

The Froebel Society of Brooklyn at its sixteenth annual reception at the Froebel Academy in Lafayette avenue on Friday evening aid its best compliments to Mrs. Alice Chadtck, one of the founders of the society and the ademy, and its first President. The guest of ie evening was taken wholly by surprise when Ars. Ellis, a former President of the society, presented to her a set of beautifully bound copies of a number of her favorite authors, and then read to her from a morocco-bound, satin-lined book an engrossed copy of a resolution making Mrs. Chadwick, not only a life member of the society but its honorary President, a unique honor that carried with it culture as much of the society but its honorary President, urique honor that earried with it guite as muc affection as distinction.

Following the engrossed resolutions were the signatures of the club members, each coupled with a sentiment of a personal character. Mrs. Chadwick's response was a most grateful and graceful expression of appreciation. The body of Clement Willshaw, who lived in Bay street, Stapelton, was found vesterday in the woods near Garretsons, Staten Island. Willshaw disappeared from home on March 13 and a letter received from him by his wife on that day announced that he was going to cut his throat. His throat, however, was not cut. Willshaw was employed for some years as a foreman in the Manhattan Elevated Railroad Company, but in the past winter he had an attack of the grip from which he never fully recovered. Pr John T. Sprague said it was a case of paresis. Coroners' Physician George Mord concluded that the man had died from the part of the late Andrew Winter of Mahwah, N. J., which has stood for the past sixty years, was destroyed by fire this morning. It was owned by Peter Kemp, his son-in-law, and occupied by the son of the late Gov. SEIZED WEDDING PRESENTS. Mr. Henry's Experience With the Customs

Laid Before Commissioner Lyman. The application of Philip S. Henry, a wealthy resident of London, for the return of articles which he brought with him from Europe in March last and which the customs officers seized was heard yesterday by United States commissioner Lyman. Mr. Henry came to this country with his bride-to-be. Miss Florence Lewinson. The couple had decided to come here to marry and Mr. Henry brought with him in his trunks and elsewhere a quantity of jewelry, some of it intended for his bride and several articles for the bride's mother. The trip across was made on the Lucania. When the ship arrived, which was on March 17, Mr. Henry was confronted by a special customs employee, W. H. Theobald. He was asked, according to the testimony which was adduced vesterday, whether he had any dutiable articles in his trunk. He replied "No" at first, but afterward explained that he had some articles

These articles of jewelry, as well as some laces which were also found, were appraised by the agent at $13.935. They comprised one diamond pendant with one triangular emerals and one pear-shaped emerald; one diamond brooch with pearl in the centre; one diamond peari ring; one diamond bracelet; one package of laces; and four dressing cases containing bottles with sliver tops. When asked yeardenge of laces; and four dressing cases containing bottles with sliver tops. When asked yeardenge if he did not consider the appraisement too high. Mr. Henry replied: "Decidedly 80."

Mr. Henry's claim through his counsel is that as the seized goods are going back with him they are not subject to duty. This was the law under former tariff acts, but the Government's position is that under the present act each passenger is entitled to bring in free only such wearing apparel and personal effects as may be necessary and appropriate for the immediate purposes of the journey and not in any case more than $100 in value. The Government's contention is that Mr. Henry should have stated in his baggage declaration that he intended the jewelry as presents. Mr. Henry has asked that he be permitted to have the goods returned to his home in London, without the payment of duty. If the application should be decided in his favor, the jewelry will be released unconditionally. If, however, the Secretary of the Treasury decides adversely to the petition of Mr. Henry for the release of the goods, the case will be tried before a jury. pearl ring; one diamond bracelet; one pack-

"It is my desire," he said yesterday, "to organize this regiment on the same lines as the Sixty-ninth Regiment which, we all know, is known as an Irish regiment. There is no reason why we should not have a Hebrew regiment in this state. Col. Duffy is my friend in this matter. I have already 600 available men enrolled from the many Hebrew clubs of New York and Brooklyn, and before another month I will have 1,200."

Gottlieb declared that he expected to re-

INTO THE LAKE TO ESCAPE A MOB. The Experience of Two Chicago Negroes Who

Fished and Fought on the Lake Shore. CHICAGO, April 28 .- "Dock" Thomas and Harry Taylor, negroes, got into a fight this morning while fishing on the Lake shore, at the foot of Thirty-seventh street. Thomas stabbed Taylor and they then began throwing stones. One missile thrown by Thomas hit Mrs. A. Sinclair of 4227 Langley avenue, who was watching her brother fish, and knocked her senseless. Believing that she was killed, the crowd around the pier made a rush at Thomas to lynch him. He jumped into the lake and waded out until the water was up to his neck. Then, flourishing his knife, he stood at bay. A wagonload of police, coming up, arrested him.

The week closed with the announcement of a number of private transactions of coniderable interest and the sales during the week were of sufficient number and importance to cheer those who have had misgivings as to the condition of the real estate market. It has improved of late, probably more than it was expected to do during the long period of dulness and depression that preceded the change, There was room for improvement, but the feeling abroad now is sufficiently optimistic to justify even timid investors in buying property. As is usual at the end of a dull period. bargains are to be had, and they are of a kind ust now that are rarely offered in the New York market.
